FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA
CHARLOTTESVILLE DIVISION

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA	)
	)	Case No. 3:98CR00037
v.	)
	)	OPINION
JOHN ANTONIO CARRINGTON,	)
	)	By: James P. Jones
Defendant.	)	Chief United States District Judge

On July 13, 1999, the court sentenced the defendant in connection with a crack cocaine conviction. In so doing, the court considered the federal sentencing guidelines as required under 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a).

Pursuant to its statutory authority, the United States Sentencing Commission has amended the federal advisory sentencing guidelines applicable to criminal cases involving cocaine base or crack cocaine, effective November 1, 2007. On December 11, 2007, the Sentencing Commission further decided that, effective March 3, 2008, the amended guideline provisions will apply retroactively to offenders who were sentenced under prior versions of the sentencing guidelines, and who are still incarcerated. Stated generally, the practical effect of the Sentencing Commission's actions is that certain federal defendants convicted of offenses involving crack cocaine may be eligible for a reduction in their current sentences, pursuant to the provisions of 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2).

On July 28, 2008, the court received a Motion to Reduce Sentence pursuant to § 3582(c)(2) from the defendant.

Having considered the defendant's Motion to Reduce Sentence, the court concludes that the motion must be denied. The defendant was convicted of conspiracy to distribute crack cocaine, in violation of 21 U.S.C. § 846. The defendant was held responsible for 250 grams of crack cocaine. Under the amended sentencing guidelines, this correlates with a base offense level of 32. However, the defendant's criminal history as detailed in the Presentence Investigation Report submitted to this court prior to the defendant's original sentencing, indicates that the defendant is a career offender as defined in USSG § 4B1.1. Accordingly, his offense level is determined by reference to the table contained in that section, and his Total Offense Level is 37. As a career offender, his Criminal History Category is VI. Thus, the amended guidelines recommend a term of imprisonment between 360 months and life, the same as at the defendant's original sentencing. Because the recommended guideline range has not changed, this court will not reduce the defendant's sentence.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED that the defendant's Motion to Reduce Sentence (Doc. No. 316) is DENIED.

The Clerk will send copies of this order to the defendant at his place of confinement and to the United States Attorney's Office.
